

Speed-up against Berkeley's original

Right of the break-even line = faster · log scale, so 2× faster and 2× slower are the same distance

